Picturesque Okanagan

A land of vineyards and orchards, known from its fertility as the "Garden of British Columbia," and reached from the C.P.R. Main Line by a branch running from Sicamous Junction. Okanagan Lake is a magnificent sheet of water, seventy miles long, and about three miles wide, on which C.P.R. Steamers ply to Kelowna, Peachland, Summerland, and on to Penticton at the foot of the Lake. Near Kelowna, Lord Aberdeen, formerly Governor-General of Canada, has a fine farm; and another holding of 13,000 acres near Vernon, employing a small army of men. The climate of the Okanagan is wonderfully mild, and the district is famous for its apples, grown in tremendous quantities and shipped to all parts of the world. Peaches, Plums, Apricots, Pears, Cherries, and Tobacco, are raised.
